NONE NOW WEAR STRIPES.

No Third-Class Prisoners at Indiana Reformatory.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Dec. 25.—For the first time since a prison was located in this city not a prisoner in the reformatory is wear-ing stripes, the uniform of the lowest grade. When the old Prison South was transformed into the Indiana Reformatory three grades of standing were established, the first desigated by a gray suit, hardly distinguisha-le from citizens' clothing; the second, a neck suit without repuisive appearance, and the third, black and white stripes and the third, black and white stripes. None but these refusing to obey prison rules have been attired in stripes for a long time. OPPOSE TRACKS ON NORTH THIRD STREET

Produce Men, Property and Team Owners Appear Before the City Council.

Produce merchants of Third street, from O'Fallon street to Washington avenue, appeared vesterday before the Committee on Railroads of the City Council to protest against granting to any railway or railroad the right to lay tracks along the thoroughfare. Some firms were represented by officers and other firms by their attorneys. The hearing referred only to the bill to give a franchise to the St. Louis and Hifnols Electric Railway Company, but the produce men argued their case from a broader standpoint, claiming that any track along the street would be detrimental to business and to property. N. P. Zimmer, attorney for the South St. Louis Protective Association, remonstrated in behalf of the business interests and property owners of the South Side against the Hinols Railway bill, and Attorney John Lee, for the Bridge & Beach Man-factur-ing Company, complained that the com-pany could not continue in business if about the plant. President O'Brien of the Team Owners' Association objected to the laying of tracks on Third and Tenth streets. A large delegation of produce men whose stores are located along Third street was present, as well as a number of property owners. All argued forcefully against having tracks on Third street, stating that the congestion even now is not far from belag intolerable, and that if cars were operated intolerable, and that if cars were operated on the street they would have to more their establishments to some other street. Their argument was that there would not be room for the produce houses, all doing a big business, and the cars.

Otto Stifel said property would decrease three-fourths in valuation if cars were operated on Third street. William H. Redemeyer tendered Chairman Wiggins a pesition, signed by produce dealers, carnessly protesting against the laying of tracks. F. G. Hauseisen, Conrad Schopp and others spoke in opposition to the bill. After the complainants had concluded their case Mr. Wiggins asked for a statement from some one representing the St. Louis and Illinois Electric Railway Company, but no one responded.

OBJECTS TO DOGS IN PARKS. Commissioner Ridgely to Make Life a Burden for Them.

Park Commissioner Ridgely has resolved to make war on dogs whenever in the future they enter the city parks, where they may molest pedestrians, horses, bicycle riders and other belings who are supposed to have the right-of-way.

There is a story back of this decision. It is said that Mr. Ridgely was enjoying a horseback ride in Forest Park lately, inspecting the grounds, and incidentally glancing upward to the tops of the trees and the gray sky, when a vagabond dog dashed into the road and managed to get close to the forefeet of the horse. Mr. Ridgely, consequently, came to have a low opinion of dogs that assume the privilege of roaming about the parks.

Yesterday the ultimatum was issued by Assistant Park Commissioner Dean, who declared that Mr. Ridgely would have rule is amended by adding a sentence to allow the keepers to shoot obstreperous dogs. Rule 15 forbids the bringing of dogs into the driving parks, excepting when "fastened or led by a cord or string."

Merchants Laclede National the State's Fiscal Agent.

At a meeting of the State Fund Commissioners held at Jefferson City yesterday the Merchants-Laclede National Early of this city was made the State's fiscal agent and will serve in this capacity from now on. Heretofore the Exchange National Early of New York has been the State's fiscal agent. The change was not made on account of any discatisfaction with the New York banking-house, but because of a desire on the part of the Commissioners to make a Missouri bank the agent of the State.
